

One Sun Solutions Expo: Safety Talk

Hello from the flight deck...on behalf of Captain Scott McNealy and myself, First Officer Chad Sparrow, we would like to take this opportunity to welcome you aboard the "One Sun Solutions Expo" with non-stop service to all your computing needs.

The event has been cleared for take off...weather etc.... We'll be pushing back shortly and then quickly climbing to our cruising altitude of approximately.... zero....

We're here to make your expo a safe and pleasant one, so please at this time, direct your attention to our wonderful safety co-ordinators, Vicki and Sharla, who are located in the aisle-ish areas in front of you.

This room is equipped with 5 Emergency Exits. 2 to the right, 2 to the left and 1 to the rear. Please take a moment to locate the Emergency Exit nearest to you; bearing in mind, bearing in mind, that if you leave the room, you don't need to tell us where you want to go today.

Due to the unpredictable nature of the expo, it is critical that you keep your seat belts fastened at all times. If you do not have a seat belt please raise your hand. Thank you.

This is a non- smoking event. Tampering with the smoke detectors in the lavatory is a federal offence, which is punishable by law, and may result in a jolly nasty slap on the wrist.

In the incredibly unlikely event of a water landing, the person next to you may be used as a floatation device. To activate your floatation neighbor, hit them squarely on the base of the neck.

In the unlikely event of an interior remodeling, a dust mask will drop from the ceiling above your head. Pull the mask toward you to access a full coverage of your mouth to reduce inhalation of sawdust. Although you will not inflate, you are receiving oxygen.

If you should experience dramatic weight loss, please, feed yourself first, before attempting to feed those around you.

The use of any personal electronic device during this expo is...encouraged.

We are aware that many of you are frequent expo attendees, but please, take a moment to locate and review the safety card which is located under your seat.

At this time please be sure that your seatbelt is securely fastened.

There will be frequent stops, so please remain in your seat until the captain's light is turned off, and he is comfortably tucked into bed.

We know you had a choice of expos to attend today, and would like to thank you for choosing The One Sun Solution Expo.

Now sit back, relax, and enjoy our presentation on Sun's Vision on the Future of Computing with our upmost, distinguished Senior Engineer, Mr. Bill Walker.
